Module Summary

- This module provides the learner with fundamental skills to design information systems, focusing on the design and implementation of database systems.

Module Summary

- The aims of the module are:
 - Enable the student to create new relational databases by devising a high-level conceptual data model.
 - Transform data model into a relational schema
 - Implement the relational schema correctly and robustly in SQL

Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this module the learner will be able to:

#
MLO1	Design and evaluate a relational database schema for a software application
MLO2	Devise and implement a set of relational tables and develop the relational database.
MLO3	Query a relational database using SQL
MLO4	Evaluate the use of relational and non-relational data storage technologies

Reading list

- Alice Rischert 2019. Oracle SQL by example.
- Thomas M. Connolly, Carolyn E Begg 2015 Database Systems
